- Develop our Grails/Groovy based application in the area of test automation
- You will be trusted with new and further development of modules and drivers
- Be creative and innovative when implementing our testing landscape (e.g.. Microservices, PostgreSQL)
- Be part of our active team for the establishment of modern, agile software processes (Scrum,...)
- Partial assumption of tasks in the field of test design
- Deployment and operation of the test framework

Your expertise includes:

- You have several years of professional experience in the field of JAVA or Grails/Groovy Development.
- Experience in the field of testing is an advantage
- Ideally, you will also find your way around in other build environments/tools (Bamboo, Sonar,...) and bring along know-how with agile process models (Scrum).
- A technical education and very good English skills top off your personality
- You work very independently with a clear view of solutions and results
- Furthermore, you will convince through your cooperative, team-oriented way of working with openness for new ideas, high quality standards and service orientation

DIMOCO's promise:

- International development opportunities in the growing and trend-setting mobile payment industry
- We support you: You will receive comprehensive training on our products and systems in special designed onboarding workshops, as well as a DIMOCO Buddy as an entry aid
- At DIMOCO we attach great importance to further training (e.g. UdeMy accesses)
- An extremely good working atmosphere - team spirit, passion and collegiality characterise our company
- Flexible working hours
- Employee events
- Modern office located on campus 21 (Brunn am Gebirge) with free shuttle bus from and to Vienna
- An annual gross salary starting with € 45.000,- with the willingness to overpay depending on professional experience and qualification.
